

ALL SAINTS' CHURCH

THIS SUNDAY May 8th & BEYOND

Luke ends his gospel with the Ascension of Jesus into heaven and then begins his sequel, the Acts of the Apostles, with the same event. The reason, he tells us in the opening verse of Acts, is that his first book dealt with all that Jesus began to do and teach until his Ascension, making clear that what would follow were things that Jesus had continued to do since.

This Sunday falls right in the middle of this transition, where Jesus goes from acting through his historical body to his mystical body, the Church. This is why in the gospel lesson Jesus prays not only for the union of the disciples with him and the Father, but with each other, so that through them everyone might know that the Father sent Jesus out of love for the world.

In last week's Sunday morning Christian formation we talked about this as the identity and mission of the Church; that it's through us, that the world encounters Jesus. We'll continue that discussion this week in talking about how the Church does this through our life together in the word and sacraments.

Come and See,
Fr. McQueen
